CAN IT SE READJUSTED. Much has been said by the leaders of the low-tax party and their official organs throughout the state about readjusting the state debt and thereby defeating the recent bill passed by the legislature for its settlement. There are some of our readers who, perhaps, may think this can be done, and who stand ready and willing to follow these angry demagogues in such a vain attempt, and thereby foster and encourage a bitter and suicidal strife within the already disorganized ranks of the democratic party of Tennessee. If there are any such, we can only regret the fact, and will herein endeavor to set them right on this subject. The act to settle the debt says: Said bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act shall be dated on the first day of July, 1881, and shall be payable ninety-nine years after their date, but the same shall be redeemable by the state at any time after the New York. Shall have coupons of how would you like this? interest attached to each of said bonds and for the punctual payment of the principal and interest of said bonds the saith, credit and be possible, and that the coupons on the same are to be made receivable The demagogues, if not their mistaxes, makes the settlement a contract, and puts the debt beyond the passed a law settling most of her indebtedness, and gave a specified time in which the bondholders might come forward and refund their bonds. Some of these bonds would get better terms from the next legislature. In the meantime the Mahone party got into power, of interest but scaled the remainder of the debt heavily. The bonds bearing six per cent, interest, and which were funded under the first act, are now worth 115 in the New York markets, and the other bond-
